Transcript from “Start Here” voki

Welcome to the Information Literacy Classroom Materials Guide. This guide is a review of content gleaned in library sessions. In addition it will serve as a valuable resource for you as you begin your student teaching.

The guide is divided up into 5 sections, each with its own voki. Please listen to the voki before exploring any of the links or resources provided.

The first section is an introduction and lists the learning objectives of the Classroom Materials guide.

The second section will serve as a guide in the process of picking a topic.

The third section is a review on creating a lesson plan.

The forth section focuses on choosing a technology to use in a lesson plan.

Finally, the last section points to the assessment piece that must be completed before beginning your student teaching.